Through the Looking Glass of Family: Reflections on 2012.

thelifeofmine3.wordpress.com/2022/01/18/personal-notes-about-family-2012/

January 18, 2022

Family Vacation Plans:

I have a strong desire to embark on a family vacation where I can cherish and savor precious moments with my loved ones. The prospect of spending quality time with my family fills me with excitement and joy.

On 24th July 2012, my father hurt me emotionally by using a derogatory term “HAIR” towards me. I strongly dislike offensive language and being called names. As a result, I have not spoken to my father for the past two days, feeling hurt and upset.

On a more positive note, my father expresses his love for me when I applies kajal to my eyes, adorns me with bangles, flowers, and a chain. These gestures make me feel cherished and loved.

Additionally, I have a deep affection for my younger brother (Thambi) and find joy in admiring his innocent face while sleeping, which radiates pure love.😍

On 1st August 2012, I felt immense joy when I fed my younger brother (Thambi). It brought me great happiness to take care of him and see him enjoy his meal.

I have always felt a bit fearful of my paternal aunt (Periamma) as she could sometimes be harsh with me, causing me to feel a bit uneasy and apprehensive around her.😖

During those days, both Vinoth and Devaraj brothers were absent. Their absence was noticeable, and I missed their presence. Both Vinoth and Devaraj brothers used to show affection towards my hair😅. Vinoth anna would lovingly comb my hair with his hands, which was a special moment for me🥰.

I felt upset when Thambi left to go to our native land, and I missed him dearly. It was difficult for me to be without him😑.

On 24th October 2012, I introduced Pradeep to Arnold brother, which brought me joy to see them interacting positively🤩.

On 21st November 2012, when Thambi and I were alone at home, we were playing a game where we mixed a small amount of various tablets, eye drops, and syrup together and kept them hidden. However, our mother discovered our secret the next day while searching for something, and she scolded us for our actions. It was a lesson learned that such experiments can be dangerous and should not be attempted without proper knowledge and supervision😉.

I enjoy decorating each Christmas tree 🎄with cribs, christmas tree gifted by Vincent and Charl, and later, I purchased one for 300 rs through my savings. During my school years, it felt like a significant amount😅.

Christmas
crib
2012

23
CANVA STORIES
CNVFILLM FF1
23
CNVFILLM FF1
23